Somewhere down the road
I'll see you again, I don't know when
And I know you'll be the same
And I know I'll be the same, unchanged

You'll free me again
But I'll never be free of memories
And I know your life will change
And I know my life will change, unchained

Unchained, unchained
I'll drift away
Like roses on the sea

Stars up in the sky
Where they're always alone, they're on their own
And I know that they'll always shine
And I know that they'll always shine on time
