Keep sliding out of favor
Betraying for the moment
We say no, but still want more
For sentimental reasons
Not trying to deceive you
Just because your love is gone
While mine goes on and on...

Getting closer
And you're holding steady
So I fumble in the dark
You're lost dreaming
And I'm almost ready
So we stumble through our parts

... disguising the intentions
Just to know what it feels like
To dig for hidden treasures
And disregard the dangers
Just because they say it's wrong
But still led on and on...

Open your eyes
Open your eyes
But hold it and hold it and hold on longer
Open your eyes
Open your eyes
But hold it and hold it
And hold then let it go
