Some call it magic
Some call it a curse
But i won't be there

Its not like i vanish
When you worry me
But i won't be there

I'm like a flower that never opened up
I never blossomed and learned how to full love

I give as much as
I can possibly give
But i won't be there

I'm like a flower that never opened up
I never blossomed and learned how to full love

If this houdini knew some magic
He would disappear
But i won't be there
