You're not afraid of me
And I'm not afraid of you
We're just strangers now
We're strangers who don't care

I feel up, upside down
(You're the one who's always talking)
'Cause I can't move on when you're around
(I'm the one who's always giving)
We're just strangers now
We're strangers who don't care

I didn't see this coming
I was colorblind
And I didn't think it'd change me
I was colorblind
Blind for you
Colorblind

We can't relate anymore
(What's the use of being here at all)
It's too late to save us
(What's the use of being here for)
We're just strangers now
We're strangers who don't care

I didn't see this coming
I was colorblind
And I didn't think it'd change me
I was colorblind
I didn't think that it would hurt
I was colorblind
Blind for you
Colorblind...
Colorblind...
Colorblind for you
Colorblind for you
