I'm not supposed to love you but I love you anyway
When I stop and think about you, It just fills me up with pain
Cause it's over now

I dream about the day that I can have you by my side
But that's never gonna happen I've begun to realise Cause it's over now

And darling I am lost without you
What if my world was all about you
But I'll never know, no I'll never know

Now everything has changed and everything feels strange
And it's all out of our control, so I guess we'll never know

I'm not supposed to miss you but I miss you every day
And I wish that I was with you now, it's driving me insane
Cause it's over now

If only I was superman I'd fly to you tonight
And dissapear right out of here, just leave it all behind
Cause it's over now

And darling I am lost without you
What if my world was all about you
But I'll never know, no I'll never know

strange
know

Can't help but wonder how you are Don't blame me, you can blame my messed up heart
That can't stop loving you

And darling I am lost without you

What if my world was all about you
But I'll never know, no I'll never know
No I'll never know, no I'll never know

Now everything has changed and everything feels
strange
And it's all out of our control, so I guess we'll never know
