Underneath it all there's something
Trying to eat away inside of me
But I can't let it get to me
You ask me what is wrong
And my reply will always be the same
Nothing nothing
In this universe there is no one else
That I would rather love or be loved by
But I make you pretend you've never loved anyone
And I make you pretend there's never been anyone
Just me me me me

If I say all the things I try not to say
You would not be here
My jealousy I fear would drive you away

When I'm alone at night
My mind goes into overtime of times
Before you were mine
I can't control the feelings
Sickness shaking hard to breath
And thinkin' thinkin' thinkin'
That if I should leave
Would you be missin' me
More than you've ever missed before
I make you pretend you've never loved anyone
And I make you pretend there's never been anyone
Just me me me me

If I say all the things I try not to say
You would not be here
My jealousy I fear would drive you away
To someone that doesn't act like me
Not so insecure
You don't have to reassure
Day after day

In this universe there is no one else
That I would rather love or be loved by

If I say all the things I try not to say

You would not be here
My jealousy I fear would drive you away
To someone that doesn't act like me
Not so insecure
You don't have to reassure
Day after day
