

Jill Jackson

"Mockingbird"

Visit "Mockingbird" on MotoLyrics.com

I woke up and looked, looked in the mirror
I've become my mother, but that's no bad thing
Cause she's beautifully sweet, sweet like an angel
But I am no angel, I don't have my wings
And so I can't fly, so I have to drive myself insane

I can't sing like a mockingbird
And I can't love without pain
I'm scarred from memories of hearts I hurt
So I won't love again

Everyday in my life seems to get harder
And just like my father I worry like crazy
My hair is turning gray and I have got wrinkles
Old worry wart wrinkles, I age by the day
But so do we all and everyone falls
I just get in such a state

I can't sing like a mockingbird
And I can't love without pain
I'm scarred from memories of hearts I hurt
So I won't love again

My heart is trapped, don't look at me like that
And please don't love me... please don't love me

I can't sing like a mockingbird
And I can't love without pain
I'm scarred from memories of hearts I hurt
So I won't love again
So I won't love again

Visit Jill Jackson page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.