How do I begin?
How do I begin?
Now, to fly away...
When I can't feel the wind on my face

I've been running out
I've been running out
Of new things to say...
There's another girl in my place

And here comes the rain on my window
It sounds like an old friend to me
Who is crying down on my shadow
And knows how lost I can be
Without you, without me

There's nothing like the sun
Nothing like the sun
I see in your smile
Now the day is gone and leaves me cold

Tears are in my hands
Tears are in my hands
And they cut like ice
How am I gonna live without my soul?

And here comes the rain on my window
It sounds like an old friend to me
Who is crying down on my shadow
And knows how lost I can be
Without you, without me

And there we will meet
Somewhere between
A prayer and dream
God only knows
How my heart goes on
Without you, without me
Without you, without me

I could walk the world

I could walk the world
A thousand times
But I could never find a love like this

And here comes the rain on my window
It sounds like an old friend to me
Who is crying down on my shadow
And knows how lost I can be
Without you, without me

Without you, without me
Without you, without me
