All down there
They seem to be exhausted
A war is finished and another starts
And at the traffic lights too many cars
Always red, at the green
They always kill you
If you are not ready

~!~A crying ghost

All down there
They seem to have no time to lose
But only if they could see the meaning
They would pray knelt down so that it ended soon
Mistake after mistake
They become hard men
~!~Loaded guns

All down there
They seem not to want to see me
But I' am here and I'm waiting ~!~them
I know the meaning
And they will come with their secrets
Without laughing in my face
They'll cry for what they've been

~!~For all this time
