And now / I'm here Spiting away my dreams Recovering from my past From what I was

I thought my life was cool With everything fits on But many lucky people Fall into own shame â€Â¦

But my friend I wanna wake up now But my friend I'm leaving

And there's who starts / to carry on That those sweet smiling lies Becoming part of you Calms you down

The better man I could be Beginning to fall apart Now I'm becoming blind And no one is pulling me up â€Â¦

But my friend I Feel tired and confused But my friend I'm leaving

I would burn/ and break everything But there's nothing to crash God, they all seem to me Like machines

I feel the null inside your soul And that embraced me too Behind this broken glass My ghosts are waiting for me â€Â¦

But my friend Is a such a weird day But my friend I'm going away â€Â¦ Solo guitar

And how can those children Play along the streets Don't they understand All around has collapsed?

I'm going away from here Save yourself you can While my destiny Makes me escape â€Â¦

But my friend I'm leaving now But my friend I'm leaving â€Â¦

Speaking

Now it's starting to rain down on me Rain comes down through my tears But you all seem not to know You only think to live like machinesâ€Â¦

Solo synth
