"Fascination and Fear"

In stillness, so much motion inside
In silence, within I held a deafening cry
My needs can never be satisfied
For my love will never be realized

I can almost feel your heart beating
See confusion in eyes so clear
The line between fascination
And fear

I battle a thought every second
For I don't feel as I was taught
I want to swim the river forbidden

I want to climb the mountain denied

I can almost feel your heart beating
See confusion in eyes so clear
The line between fascination
And fear

My needs can never be satisfied
For my love will never be realized
