"I Bleed For You"

I can't tell a lie from an answered prayer
But I can tell when I'm cut and burning
One day I will put down the knife
Only when I trust another to hold it

I bleed for you
On my knees for you
I'll hand you heaven
Don't trade it for trinkets

This damn wind will change direction
It will stop you dead as you walk
Holding a nightmare called memory
That you led and held me to

I bleed for you
On my knees for you
I'll hand you heaven
Don't trade it for trinkets
