The plans are all made all cramped up inside.
A fist in your pocket you want to hold high.
Shouldn't've been a doctor a lawyer alright.
The course is set this is your life.
Things need to change.
Change them right now.
Not too late to say good bye.
To boredom of safety of uncertain times.
Just walk on out and leave it behind.
The stakes are all set but it's just dead time.
The stars are aligned but nothing seems right.
Should have been different but then.
We got overwhelmed and it feels like the end.
Things need to change.
Change them right now.
Not too late to say good bye.
To boredom of safety of uncertain times.
Just walk on out and leave it behind.
How do you deal and stay sane.
With these expectations.
The look in their eyes says the same.
About every ones situation.
Things need to change.
Change them right now.
Not too late to say good bye.
If things need to change.
Then change them right now.
To boredom of safety of uncertain times.
Just walk on out and leave it behind.
Just leave it behind.
