Crazy for a while living with the pain
Feel like I could cry hiding in shame
I don't know the answers or where I can go
Losing myself in the night
If you've got the answers please let me know
I'm looking for some kind of light
Do you have the truth in your eyes?

Chorus:

Am I going the right way, going the right way?
Following words in the dark
Going the right way, going the right way?
Reading the signs with my heart

We're all on a river the river is long
When it's trying to drown you
You've got to stay strong
You're giving me answers of what I can do
Holding my hand in the night
All of your answers leading me through
Pulling me back to the light
You have the truth in your eyes

Chorus:

Going the right way, going the right way
Following words in the dark
Going the right way, going the right way
Reading the signs with my heart

Going the right way, going the right way
Following words in the dark
Going the right way, going the right way
Reading the signs with my heart

Bridge:

All of the shadows I let surround me
Falling away falling away
Now I see which way to go
In the new dawn of the day

Chorus:

Going the right way, going the right way

Following words in the dark
Going the right way, going the right way
Reading the signs with my heart
