Verse:

I could send you searching through the tunnels of my mind

Or I could tell you instead

What I'm feeling, what I hope you feel

But I know it isn't real

Pre-Chorus:

If you could see me for who I truly am, so deep in you're already too close

Chorus:

Your head games are finally getting to my head
Get inside there want to hide there but you're here instead

Your head games are finally getting to my head

I see your shadow on the inside of my mind

I see your words cut in stone, cut in stone

Verse:

I wonder how you see things when you're sitting there alone

For me it's gray on the edges

Dancing softly floating with the tide

What I hope for and what I hate collide

Pre-Chorus:

If you could know me for everything I've done, so deep in we're already too close

Chorus:

Your head games are finally getting to my head
Get inside there want to hide there but you're here
instead

Your head games are finally getting to my head

Bridge:

Just take a day and I'm running, find a night and I'm leaving

I try to dream but I can't escape

What's here inside me, no place to hide me, hide me?

Chorus:

Your head games are finally getting to my head
Get inside there want to hide there but you're here
instead

Your head games are finally getting to my head
I see your shadows on the inside of my mind
I see your words cut in stone, cut in stone

There's really no place left to hide
