You feel beat up like me you feel burned like me
You feel worn out like me
That's why it works, that's why it works
You feel somewhere in between a saint and being mean
You feel used
That's why it works, that's why it works

Chorus:

Nobody can be an angel forever
Nobody can understand you all the time
Nobody can make it on their own
Sometimes you just need someone
When there is no light wrong or right
Sometimes you just need someone and it works

You feel screwed up like me you feel scarred like me you feel empty like me
That's why it works, that's why it works
You feel like laughing then you cry
You smile and wonder why you feel scripted
That's why it works, that's why it works

Chorus:

Nobody can be an angel forever
Nobody can understand you all the time
Nobody can make it on their own
Sometimes you just need someone
When there is no light wrong or right
Sometimes you just need someone and it works
Sometimes you just need someone to hold you, yeah
Sometimes you just need someone and it works

Bridge:

The hardest things to say are better left unsaid
When you belong together eyes can say it all
Don't drift away don't leave me when I need you

Sometimes you just need someone
When there is no light wrong or right
Sometimes you just need someone and it works
Sometimes you just need someone to hold you, yeah

Sometimes you just need someone and it works
