She takes us wanderers under Her wing,
Sings us songs till the coming of the spring,
Lifts our souls far into the night,
Fills our dreaming with wondrous delight.

Chorus:

You, you were born naked,
Naked, naked you?ll die,
Angel of darkness, angel of mercy,
Take away the sorrow, take away the pain.
The angel of bells, she knows the ring,
Wraps it round your shoulders, fluffs up your wings.

She'll take you flying, suddenly you'll sing
The angel of bells, she knows the ring.
All you have to do is call out her name,
She'll come to you, she loves your silly games.
She'll be dancing on a silver plane,
the angel of bells, she knows your name.
