"As You Cry"

I'm a half-hearted fool
With a heart that's broke in two
A quarter and a kiss is all it should be worth to you

I must be the last of my kind
'cause you treasure me despite all the signs
The love has disappeared and Darling you shouldn't even try

After every fight we always wonder what we're fighting for Beat me up and mark me yeah you stole me but I am not yours

As you cry, I wanna lie
Say I love you so, darlin' even though I don't
There's no easy way to ease the pain
Roses and the tulips have withered away, they had their day
So it's time to say goodnight and goodbye

You're so bright that you shine right through All the problems that I always try to lay on you Won't you take me off darling?
And get some air in this room

I can't believe a what I can
I hold inside of my hand Well end up partying and Might decide to mess up the plan
I'd be a lying if I told you that we would work out

After every fight we always wonder what we're fighting
for
Beat me up and mark me yeah you stole me but I am
not yours

As you cry, I wanna lie
There's no easy way to ease the pain

Roses and the tulips have withered away, they had
their day
So it's time to say goodnight and goodbye

Nobody's singing about you any more
You thought you heard it well you must've heard wrong
It's my business and that's alright
Don't you see that?

As you cry, I wanna lie
There's no easy way to ease the pain
Roses and the tulips have withered away, they had
their day
So it's time to say goodnight and goodbye

Goodbye...
