Now that we made it, we still end up losing somehow.
We found a way through this tragical maze till now.

Does love make us unbreakable or mistakable?
Or more fragile than we've ever been before?

We could drown in these waters,
we could lose this life..

Why is it the closer we get the deeper this dangerous
sea,
drifting on this raft that we build, and still clinging on to a dream

(Bridge)
Does love make us unsinkable and immortal?
Or more fragile than we ever been before?

(chorus)
We could drown in these waters,
we could lose this life.. x2

Holding on to you, holding on to me..

Holding on to you, holding on to me...

(Bridge)
Does love make us unsinkable and immortal?
Or more fragile than we ever been before?

(Chorus)
We could drown in these waters,
we could lose this life..

Holding on to you, holding on..

Holding on to you...
