"My Own Urine"

The dry air holds a distinct fascination
For those who are unfamiliar
For those who are unfamiliar
With any other way of living

And I can see by their eyes
I can see by your eyes
I can see by your eyes
I can't see, I can't see by my eyes

And I remember the morning I awoke
I remember, but not very well
Marinating in a pool, a puddle of blood and urine
My own urine and someone else's blood
My own urine, someone else's blood

I can see by their eyes
I can see by your eyes
I can see by your eyes
I can't see, I can't see by my eyes

That lady so ugly
She looks like Dracula

I can see by their eyes
I can see by your eyes
I can see by your eyes
I can't see, I can't see by my eyes
