I situated myself here about a thousand miles ago, so I'll figure it out in a slow and jagged way Those friends of mine were always glad to help me through,
Can you tell me where it hurts the most
Right here
Their house was grimy and filthy and dirty, but their hearts were flowing pure and clean Or so I thought, I'd always believe them, at least that's how it seemed to be
I guess I thought that way mistakenly, oh
They did things to that goat, they did things no one should do Well I situated myself here about a thousand miles ago, so I'll figure it out in a slow and jagged way Those friends of mine were always glad to help me
through,
Can you tell me where it hurts the most
Or so I thought, I'd always believe them, at least that's how it seemed to be
I guess I thought that way mistakenly
