If I bleed will it run can I catch you in time
Must it hurt any longer in order, to unify
Willingly she lay, bare with the gray on her cheek
Burning innocently, stream flows deceiving

Cover my lips, take my breath
For I suffocate then I'll breathe you, so be it death

Darkness into light, and on this night drink me
Like the wine, a ruby high, consume me dry
Leave me tired broken, dead be woken
Hearts bleed empty screaming for more…
Self inflicted torture

Shadows they grow into mortal, humor me
Just make me useful
Brutally tormenting, without warning
So will you lay me to rest,
Help to suppress piercing numb in my chest?
Bitter and motionless, do unto me with no mercy

Darkness into light, and on this night, drink me
Like the wine, a ruby high, consume me dry
Leave me tired, broken, dead be woken
Hearts bleed empty screaming for more…
Self inflicted torture

Dark can't exist when we're falling inside the abyss
I'll fall too if you promise me this
That you'll have your way

Darkness into light, and on this night, drink me
Like the wine, a ruby high, consume me dry
Leave me tired, broken, dead be woken
Hearts bleed empty screaming for more…
Self inflicted torture

Darkness into light, and on this night, drink me
Like the wine, a ruby high, consume me dry
