"A Call To Arms"

I died miles ago when I chose a road I'd come to meet tonight
And I don't know where you've gone
I tried moments ago to trace my steps back to where I began tonight
But everything is gone

Tonight a dusty road abandoned by any sign of life
Tonight I stand alone and I ask
Why I find myself caught in war with no one by my side
And face opposition (whoa). It's cause I

Can't ignore a battle call
A call to arms to fight the world alone
And tonight we stand alone

In the distance I
Hear them march to battle us and I
Raise my gun up from my side
Past the desert I
See them march to battle us and I
Feel my duty fortify
