Baby, you're looking like you've been shook up
Maybe your little heart's all out of love
I've been waiting for someone to pull a trigger
Well I hear off in the distance bodies hit the ground
Just in time to turn things upside down
You need love, I need to escape

I've got nothing left out here (welcome aboard)
Do you really think I, do you really think I care?
I've been waiting all these years (welcome aboard tonight my brother)
I've been warned to beware (welcome aboard)
Do you really think I, do you really think I care?
I have conquered all their fears (welcome aboard
tonight my brother)

Well begging never got you here
Don't cry to me, you know that I don't care
Try something more sincere than ups and downs
'Cause whispers speak so loud at night
Under your breath spoken out right
I'm finding triggers pulled so tight as to avow
And you avow
Adieu, adieu, and now...
