"Sovereign Of The Seas"

I've seen better days
Black sails and cutlass raised
The old ways are looking tried and true
So in your dying days
Mutiny, marooned
Let me remind you how the seven seas are ruled
How the seven seas are ruled
By the sea (Ho!)

I've seen better days
Victory shining on my blade
The winds behind my sails loyal as my crew
Now that the winds have changed
My sword still raised in lieu
I come to remind you how the seven seas are ruled
By the sea (Ho!)

Can't live forever
When the ebb collects you
Forlorn you'll find the
Sovereign of the seas!
Each hour assures you'll
Never live forever
Concede to the new
Sovereign of the seas!

From the sea you'll find
Against the rising tides
All your assets fragile and brief
Sworn men deserting you
As they often do
Allegiance only until fear unveils their hearts
Fearing the sea (Ho!)
