I'm letting down the noise
so I can hear your voice.
And I recognise the choices I can make.
Living out a dream,
but I'm always in-between.
I can never see the road that I should take.

But this ever changing symphony is always there in front of me in my light
once again.

But I can't breathe when you're gone.
And I can't seem to find a way to carry on.
But I can't breathe when you're gone.
I can't find a way
I can't find a way this time.

Just tell me where to go,
and I'll show you what I know.
With an empty convocation in your ear.
You turn around and sing a rhyme;
I hear it in between the lines, in my head
once again

But I can't breathe when you're gone.
And I can't seem to find a way to carry on.
But I can't breathe when you're gone.
I can't find a way, I can't find a way.

You and I wonder why,
we're throwing it all away.
Tell me why we can't shine like yesterday.
Tell me where you wanna be.
So I can find a place this time, this time.

I'll wonder why
I walk this line.

But I can't breathe when you're gone.
And I can't seem to find a way to carry on.
But I can't breathe when you're gone.

I can't find a way, I can't find a way.

I can't breathe when you're gone.

I can't find a way, I can't find a way.

To carry on this time,

to carry on this time, to carry on again.

To carry on
