Yeah, yeah, yeah

Oh nothing can take me back
Oh when I go off track
Now that she is all you need
She must be everything I'll never be

What did I do to push your heart to break
I'm founding out it was a big mistake

Isn't it all a little bit wrong when you wake up to see her face
Isn't it strange she's standing there in my place
And tell me
Was my head in the clouds
Were my feet on the ground
I'm thinking now that you're gone
I want to hold on

Oh oh I wanna hold on

Oh we were so in love
Oh for me it's just so tough
I never meant for you to cry
It's obvious that you've moved on with your life

What did I do to push your heart to crack
What can I do to take it back

Isn't it all a little bit wrong when you wake up to see her
face
Isn't it strange she's standing there in my place
And tell me
Was my head in the clouds
Were my feet on the ground
I'm thinking now that you're gone

Oh oh I wanna hold on
Oh though I let go of all we had
I can't stand you with anyone else
And to see you so happy to be

With a girl that's nothing like me

Isn't it all a little bit wrong when you wake up to see her
face

Isn't it strange she's standing there in my place

And tell me

Was my head in the clouds

Were my feet on the ground

I'm thinking now that you're gone

I want to hold on (x5)

Isn't it all a little bit wrong when you wake up to see her
face

Isn't it strange she's standing there in my place

And tell me

Was my head in the clouds

Were my feet on the ground

I'm thinking now that you're gone
