arriving on a thursday, walking down the streets of another big town and the sun is starting to heat up the environment of the enemys ground and im starting to believe that this is the end

and this is the beginning
cause this is the end
well i try to come down
my circulation
I know i will have to go on to pretend (i know)

here is a note of my diary written on the 21st of july it was in the city of love you killed the girl and i still dont know why
good luck and good bye my beautiful friend this is the beginning and this will be the end cause this is the beginning and this will be the end (oh no) try come down my circulation good luck and good bye (ah)
