As you pack your clothes into a bag and head out in the rain, I don't know if you really care whether you see me again.
After twenty years I've learnt no one stays here for more than two,
So I wish you the best and when you're gone we'll have a drink for you.

As the bus drove over London Bridge the river shone so bright, You leant in and kissed my cheek,
I held your cold hand tight.
In my head Bob Dylan sang about "revolution in the air",
And we danced right on through the night
