I wanna be as useful as I'm useless
I don't want to be sarcastic, I don't want to be your clown
If they really want an answer, tell them
That I was never down with them
Any keep them guessing
I'm far too arrogant to feel my presence, my second guessing

I don't want to go out drinking, I'm too shy to go it alone
Besides it doesn't matter if no one's there when you get home
And if they really want an answer, tell them
That I am not around to talk
And take the message
I'm far too proud to walk to keep a friendship, my second guessing

I won't complain, there are some things that I just
That I just don't know and I'm too ashamed to be alone
For long enough to grow with you
And here's the less
Know the truth
You have my blessing,
My second guessing
My second guessing
My second guessing.
