[B-Real]

couldn't believe your eyes when you see what the fuck is comin' psychlones all you sorry mothafuckas runnin' the city has turned to renegades with guns and blades and criminals seeking to get paid I maintain, keep cool-ahead in the face of destruction whether I live or die unpredictable, invincible, untameable, individual uncontrollable like a psycho deadly so let us begin to take your min' to another plane 'cause I know you ain't ready the course of the psychlone is steady so who in their right mind would get in the way of the machete?
the serpent fuckin' with me in the turbulent times of war on the street gran your fuckin' heat come with me inside the whirl wind everybody's welcome into the psycho's den

[Chorus: Mr. Duke]

Even though we don't know the attack's exact origin
Man-made diseases show traces of an assassain
The goverment went deranged and came blastin' Tryin' to finish us off with poisoned rations

[Sick Jacken]

as you sleep
nightmares and dreamscapes awake now it's time to renovate use thoughts and plots to elevate violence is like cellophane storing all you renegades the only thing is you're already spoiled so now you play the game teams are spread out all over your city mobile with your lo lo on 520's and 560's
guns and drugs are spread into your town you must realize open your eyes wide the drama will be televised revolution waitin' for your input like dail tones strap on the psyclone's takin' your zone grab your weapon keep streppin' if you don't defend don't mention it to anybody who questions step into the eye and die you've been shook and took by madman, psycho slash crook

[Mr. duke]

the cities' survival depends on defense methods we bring L.A. to the stage live coverage methods are jagged like pieces of broken records are now shanks we abuse in the holding tanks it's going down in the middle of downtown out of line, confined to get checked and robbed blind vigilante to protect and serve the people violent sequels 'til the evil and death equal

[Chorus: B-Real]

Man-made diseases show traces of an assassain
Tryin' to finish us off with poisoned rations

the day could feel what I feel life in the battlefield facing fuckin' steel, no shield puppet goverments on the streets to confiscate C.B.'s, batteries and M.C.'s

[B-Real]

look at the deep thought dwelling within' your mind do you got what it takes to survive the city of the blind? everyone follow and let your soul feel free can you keep up or will you fall behind me?

look for spies near telephones neghbourhood informants, tapping into your dial tones televisions act cameras also enemies program your box of cables

[Sick Kacken]

invasion of your spaces calls for rowdy occasion deliberate attacks on your stacks means retaliation can you succeed in leaving the other side bleeding?
can you succeed in leaving the other side bleeding?
or will they defeat my street fleet?
can you succeed in leaving the other side bleeding?
