Tonight...
The stars will light our way across paths of moonlight pavement.
Watching...
Transfixed by the electric feeling I get when you smile.
I loose control of the wheel in my hands
The world turns to black and your touch has disappeared.
Oh and I say,

Wake up Wake Up!
Why can't I open up these eyes?
My loves voice is trembling with the tears she cries
I try so hard
To break free
From the cold bars that hold me
To the prison in my mind
And I want to respond to the words you say
To make all your tears go away,
And if I can't make it back to conciousness,
I'll sleepwalk
My way back to you...

Hello...
Are there ears to hear all the words I exclaim?
Even if it means searching a lifetime,
A lifetime it will be and it starts today.
Kill the noise...
A voice screams check your pockets boy.
A key inscribed with her name...
A key to open this cage!

Wake up Wake Up!
Why can't I open up these eyes?
My loves voice is trembling with the tears she cries
I try so hard
To break free
From the cold bars that hold me
To the prison in my mind
And I want' to respond to the words you say
To make all your tears go away,

And if I can't make it back to consciousness,
I'll sleepwalk
My way back to you...

Sleepwalk now,
Your Way back home
Sleepwalk now,
Alone...

My answered prayers are alive up ahead
Flashing in color blue and red
Sirens of life filling the ears in my head
The hands of an angel bring me life once again
Sleepwalking...
Sleepwalking...
Sleepwalking woah oh whoah oh no...
Sleepwalking, Sleepwalk your way back home...
Home...
Home...
Home...
Home...

Sleepwalking...sleepwalking...sleepwalking...
