We turn the page just to understand the story. We open the book, but I bet that you wont find a trace. (Refined and clean.) We got you, you left blood on the bathroom. The wrong move puts us neck in neck now. (Soon youll see.) This last chance its one in a billion. When we meet I promise youll feel this. (Guard your lies.) Cause if you dont theyll catch up to you.

To quiet times, I hold my breath. To overstatements and disillusionment. To quiet times, I hold my breath. Youre getting under my skin

I want to, but its hard for me. Ill say what I want to say. (A bold-faced lie. You were screaming from my window and it's what Im supposed to say.)

The plot grows, when we fill out intentions. Fidelity its enough to mention, stay true blue. You had the love, but you still took the money. So when you fall yeah you know your gonna fall hard. (No regrets.) So dont front when I find out what you do, I didnt stutter when I said that I hate you. (Read my lips.) Cause this ones gonna hurt a little.

To quiet times, I hold my breath. To understatements and fighting in the end. To quiet times, I hold my breath. Youre getting under my skin
