Breath through the chasm of night

Wander off into the mountain

Where many a king has fone

Before the dawn of time
Misty paths enlighten my way
To seek the ancient wisdom

Travel to the far beyond
To unveil that carved in stone
Myths of my forefathers quests

Asknowledged before my eyes

Here in this mountain hall
I grasp at the memories
Feel the gaze of enticing power
Unite myself with out forefathers kings

Grow in the knowledge of anceint glory

I am the past come again
Breath through the chasm of night
Wander off into the skies

Where many a king has gone before
Forever to walk, again once more
