There must have been a reason
We first got together
There must have been a reason
We use to talk forever
It's hard to see it now
'Cause it's easier to think
Of what went wrong

I could keep pointin' fingers
I could stay mad as hell
Just let my anger linger
But as far as I can tell
I've just got to let it go
If I wanna move on

Chorus:

So I'll think about how you made me laugh
Not think about how you made me cry
Think about how we both swore
We'd love each other till we died
Forget about who's to blame
Just remember your smilin' face
It's a choice I've had to make
So I'll think of you that way

Seems like I paint you now
In colors of forgiveness
I lost the pain somehow
And in its place there is this
Part of me that sees you in the light
I saw you in before

Chorus:

So I'll think about how you made me laugh
Not think about how you made me cry
Think about how we both swore
We'd love each other till we died
Forget about who's to blame
Just remember your smilin' face

It's a choice I've had to make
So I'll think of you that way
