Lord I have failed You every day that I remember I've brought upon You shame and tarnished Your good name

Lord how I've betrayed You every day that I remember
But You don't seem to care, You just love me standing here

Anyone but You, would walk away
Oh, if they really knew

You call my name
You call my name
You call my name
And I'll never be the same

Nothing I can say, could ever make You turn away
You're constant like the ocean, refreshing like the rain
Lord, I want to take You as my Saviour and my King
You don't ask to much, You just want my everything

Take what I've broken
I leave it all with You and start again

You call my name, I have nothing
You call my name, I can give You
You call my name
And I'll never be the same

You call my name, I have nothing
You call my name, I can give You
You call my name
I can't take this love away

Every single day
I'm carried and I'm taken by the way
