It is cold here the rain is beating down
Cruel and icy the wind is swirling around
Disappointment is blowing overhead
I am frozen by the words they said

And so you find me
Wandering blindly in this driving rain
Trying to find some way through this pain

Losing feeling I think it's taking hold
I keep on walking but I feel so cold

They say that there's a place
Where it's safe and warm
Shelter from the storm inside
A house upon a hill
Your tempest turn to still
Somewhere on the road ahead

Is it real or is it just a dream?
All I know I left the place I've been

Can you find me
Wandering blindly in this winter storm
Trying to find some way to be warm

They say that there's a place
Where it's safe and warm
Shelter from the storm inside
And hope is waiting there
Sitting in his chair
A burning love to welcome me

A hope for the hopeless
A peace in the storm
A love for the loveless
In winter it can be warm
