My mind is only of your demise, but I find that you're still ill.

My life is nothing but stolen lies, so I look for a life to steal.

My kind is living a life that dies, but my eyes see human life.

This time I'm starting to recognize, but it's pointless to save my life.

I've come full circle

I've come full circle

I've come full circle

I've come full circle

It's just the meaning that I, everything's for a life.

I'm everything I'm supposed to be until I die.

I never wanted this, but it still happened this way.

I just want to repress but you won't let me.

If you leave me now, I wonder what would happen to my world.

You're just a never healing sore... beating me.

I tried believing your honest face, cuz it helps make the time pass by.

Unlike that time I've been dead for days, so I mourn her then and confine.

I've come full circle

I've come full circle

I've come full circle

I've come full circle

It's all what you did to me.

Then I became this way, but still the time slips away.

Forcing me to stay, I tried staying on top but you fucked me instead.

I don't want to commit, I just want to forget.

If you leave me now, I wonder what would happen to my world.

You're just a never healing sore..beating me.
