Taken for all we're worth
Our sovereign nation lays beneath claiming we're to blame
The beauty's gone, take all you owe
Our land corrupt before their eyes
I refuse to stand by anymore
Your hour has arrived
Oh!

Thought we'd just sit by sucking on the lies
That your venomous tongue spouts forth
As you bring this world to its knees
Where will you (where will you be?)
Will you be here to watch the injustice you've done?
The beauty's gone, take all you owe
Our land corrupt before their eyes

Don't just stand by cause time is up
We will not allow
The ocean won't wash away
(You've gone too far)

The hour of judgement has appeared at your door
You stand accused of high treason against us all
You're hands are tied, you have good legs
Time to stand, use them to our home
I cannot, we will not
I won't take this injustice anymore!
