Mangled and diseased
Her body a carrier of these putrid infections
As her body turns to ashes the infected speak her name
As her body turns to ashes the infected, they speak her name
Clunge

Oh how I'd like to see you burned down Now that you're gone I can finally be reborn in this new body
A cleansing fire of rebirth will blanket all from existence and route

Break her down
Eradicate her disease from the ground that I walk on Now I am free

If I could shatter just one thing
It would be the mirror I ram down your throat
Showing reflections of yourself
Cutting you up from the inside
You choke

Knowing now what you've become Put your feet to the edge
Take your life now!

Now that you're gone
I can finally be reborn in this new body
A cleansing fire of rebirth will blanket all from existence
Eradicate her disease from the ground I walk on Now I'm free
