Things get stuck in my head, and they're taking me nowhere
And sometimes it's hard just to find what you need
But lately I'm feeling something good's come around 'Cos she just takes me way up, and she won't let me down

Chorus:

And beautiful feelings are starting again
And all of my heartaches are starting to mend
And beautiful feelings are there till the end
So I open on up and I let 'em in

Well I need to feel that I'm destined for something
And I need to get down on my knees, lord and pray
And I need to feel a warm body near mine
When I wake up in the morning, suddenly to find

That - chorus

I get feeling guilty for climbing too high I'm looking for problems that just don't apply chorus (last line:)

Till beautiful feelings die
