Who did you think you were, who did you think you were fooling

You've been seeing too many movies where the bad guys are the heroes

Everything started fine and it looked like the seed was sown

Till you took up an evil stance and you came on just like Al Capone

I had to leave or I'd have gone insane

Now I hear they say you've changed, but

Old gangsters never die, old gangsters never die

Don't you ever wonder why, oh

You had me when I was green, you made me feel so dependent

It satisfied your paranoia to think I really needed you

Who did you think I was, did you think that I'd let it ride

Put down that violin case, I know just what you're trying to hide

I've got to leave, you chill me to the marrow

There's just no way you're on the straight and narrow, because

Old gangsters never die, old gangsters never die

Don't you ever wonder why, oh

(Solo)

And when I finally climbed down off your shell

You blamed everyone except yourself

Old gangsters never die, old gangsters never die

They just fade into the night, oh, bye bye
