You know it gets too much, and sometimes she cries like a baby

But she's almost certain it'll pass when she becomes a lady

But while she's still a young girl, love is avoiding her

Thank God for the radio and the color TV - oh oh oh oh

Heroes are hard to find in the cold world, but not in her mind

As she's talkin' to Jesus during the radio station breaks

Chorus:

And she's on her knees, falling on her knees

Asking how the world can be so cold to her

And she listens to the records playin' on her radio

And she's falling in love with the singer (ooh)

Now she's feeling better, and she's feeling good

But she's coming down by the time the song is over

And she starts feeling lonely, feeling she's the only

Ordinary solitary one, all alone my solitary one

Hurryin' home, oh God it's been one of those bad days

But with the flirk of a switch and the twist of a dial

She gets love on the airwaves

And they send her favorite lovers to keep her satisfied

And she's talking to Jesus during the radio station breaks

chorus

And she's on her knees, falling on her knees

Asking how the world could be so cold to her

And she starts feeling lonely, feeling she's the only

Ordinary solitary one, all alone my solitary one

All alone my solitary one (repeats 3x)
