It's only everything you are
It's only everything you are
It's only everything you are
It's only all
When all you have you have let go
And all your clothes are carrying somebody that you'll never hold
Walk through this night beside my side
And we can watch the morning sunlight dance a path across its day
Don't let a place to hide
Keep you
From giving your love away
Don't let a place to hide
Keep you
From giving your love away,
It's only everything you are
It's only everything you are
It's only everything you are
It's only all.
