"The love you give"

Is this the day
For loving
It's been so long
Since you've been loved
The weight around your heart
Has lifted
It seems so long
You've been holding on
There'll always be the sun
To rise when night is done
Baby come back down
Let go of what you've found
The love you give is all that really matters
Is this the day
For your love
To take a hold
Of somebody's heart
There'll always be the sun
To rise when night is done
Baby come back down
Let go of what you've found
The love you give is all that really matters
