Oooh oooh oooh

One more stop on the train, one more stop on the train, one more stop on the train and we'll be there again

You'll sit next to me, and I'll sit next to you

You'll sing me a song, and I'll sing you one too

And then there's one more stop on the train, one more stop on the train, one more stop on the train and we'll be there again

We could sit or stand, and I could hold your hand, so listen to the whistle the conductor blows.. oooh oooh ooh..

One more stop on the train, one more stop on the train,
one more stop on the train and we'll be there again

We could read the map, with my head on your lap, soon the train starts slowing down, and we'll be home again

Because its one more stop on the train, one more stop on the train, one more stop on the train and now we're home again

Oooh, oooh oooh
