She was such a drag to me
I thought it was destiny
But she lied as people do
She forgets what we've been through

Now that she has gone away
I'll forget all the things she has got to say
About me and about my friends
And we had no, we had no defense

Well that's her, I never believed in the girl
She might have to sleep with my friends
I knew it was uneasy in the end
"Why you don't need me", she said
Oh, I'll get her back
Oh, I'll get her back
"I'll get you", she said, she said, she said

We've been together for a million years
When I go to sleep my eyes are full of tears
When I wake up I think of you
I know that we are through

Well that's her, I never believed in the girl
She might have to sleep with my friends
I knew it was uneasy in the end
"Why you don't need me", she said
Oh, I'll get her back
Oh, I'll get her back
"I'll get you", she said, she said, she said
