Cold feet, no sleep
Tucked by the side of the road
Headlights burn bright
Why won't they leave us alone?

Our sky, covered in light
Towering over the trees
Face up, leave it to luck
Watch as they fall to the sea

CHORUS:

Tonight, we will become part of the moon, oh
We will become part of the moon, oh

Years back, we had many to go to be clear
Now that time's passed
Nothing is up in the air

This hour, the meteor shower
Is just like the one in your song
Now we have all that we need
To carry each other along

CHORUS

And I cannot believe how we have grown
And come to build a castle of our own
The days have turned to months
Have turned to years
We climbed the winding stairs to make it here
