i was there
when they would stare at you just like the light had fallen from the sun you'd think that jesus had come

i called you sugar on that day and later sweetness drove my manic haze and i found another name so gorgeous was the day we met i couldn't speak except to say how

delirious and daylight falling into night i fell i thought i'd drown myself i thought i'd drown myself in you well i shook the honey glaze from my head and i realized, yeah i realized i'd do anything for you

my eyes were spinning round like the twist of a top my head reeling round so fast i didn't think it could stop but i stopped and

gorgeous was the day we met
gorgeous that the two of us could be spill myself all over you like syrup all delicious and stuck on you yeah we'll wreck ourselves yeah we'll wreck ourselves ?as two? no unseen force can deny this - why would it even try?

it'll never stop it'll never go away

gorgeous that the two of us could be
so so gorgeous
