"Instability"

All you know and all you see
A misconception envelopes me
All i care and all i feed
Appear to be the products of emotional greed
And the deeper it goes and the less someone knows
It's a virus inside - it keeps burning inside
If the world could know what envelopes the whole
Then we'd all understand the life long demand
That's all i know: instability
That's all i know: and it's too late for me
All i feel and all i touch
Doesn't affect me all that much
All i care and all i fear
Affects me the same now year after year
And i reach my hands up to heaven above
But i refuse to say that i feel love
My action's not reflected in my tone
Because the further i reach the more i feel alone
That's all i know: instability
That's all i know: and it's too late for me

You may think that you are telling me where i'm going to
You may think away...
So stop thinking that you're gonna tell me where to go
Stop your thinking stop your thinking
